

REPORTING

The GCM articulates a process to review progress made at the local, national, regional and global levels in implementing the Global Compact. Accordingly, Step 6 provides an overview of the anticipated review and reporting processes, and suggests how States can prepare for the anticipated reviews.

USING THIS MATERIAL

The reporting step includes the following actions: Establish review and reporting processes and prepare for reporting. Before beginning, reflect on the following guiding questions and the focus of your approach. Review the actions and tools provided and note those of particular interest. Use the checklist included at the end of this step to help guide your work.

ESTABLISH REVIEW AND REPORTING PROCESSES

The GCM establishes the International Migration Review Forum (IMRF) as the primary intergovernmental platform for Member States to share progress on GCM implementation. Acknowledging that most international migration takes place within regions, the GCM also calls for regional reviews (GCM, para. 50). The GCM encourages that these reviews be informed by national reviews and supported by practicable, ambitious national responses, including through the use of national implementation plans (GCM, para. 53). Finally, the GCM requests biennial reports from the UN Secretary-General to the General Assembly. Each of these review and reporting processes is detailed in this section.

■ Regional reviews, which will also take place every four years, began in 2020 and alternate with discussions at the global level. In line with the GCM, these regional reviews are to be carried out by relevant subregional, regional and cross-regional processes, platforms and organizations, including the UN regional economic commissions and regional consultative processes on migration. Like national reviews, these regional reviews should also embrace the participation of all relevant stakeholders (GCM, para. 50).

A dedicated webpage for regional reviews managed by the UN Network on Migration (<https://migrationnetwork.un.org/regional-reviews>) provides information on both the preparatory process as well as outcomes of GCM regional reviews. Inputs by Member States and stakeholders are collated under dedicated portals for each region, including all voluntary national reviews of GCM implementation submitted through the regional review process.

BIENNIAL REVIEWS OF THE UN SECRETARY-GENERAL

The GCM also requests that the UN Secretary-General, drawing on the UN Network for Migration, report to the General Assembly on a biennial basis on the implementation of the GCM, the activities of the UN system in this regard and the functioning of the institutional arrangements (GCM, para. 46). The UN Secretary-General Reports can be accessed on the UN Network on Migration's website.

Reporting

VNRs highlight the successes, challenges and lessons around implementing the 2030 Agenda, and are presented by governments every year at the annual High-level Political Forum on Sustainable Development.

At the local level, different municipalities are also conducting voluntary local reviews (VLRs) in an effort to consolidate local implementation of the 2030 Agenda. These VLRs feed into national and regional reviews.

Universal Periodic Review (UPR) of the Human Rights Council

The UPR is a unique, State-driven process that involves a review of the human rights records of all UN Member States.

Country-level reporting done by human rights treaty bodies

Human rights treaty bodies are committees of independent experts that monitor implementation of the core international human rights treaties (for example, ICERD, ICCPR, CEDAW, CRC). Each State party to a treaty has an obligation to take steps to ensure that everyone in the State can enjoy the rights set out in the treaty, and to report to the relevant treaty body regarding its progress.

A list of the core international human rights instruments and their monitoring bodies can be found at www.ohchr.org.

The following guiding principles inform the process for preparing regional reviews and intergovernmental meetings.³²

Preparatory process

- Stakeholders shall be meaningfully involved in supporting the preparation and organization of the reviews through appropriate methods of consultation.
- The Network, through its regional Networks and the Regional Economic Commissions, will support meaningful engagement of stakeholders in the preparation of a voluntary stocktaking of the implementation of the GCM at the national level (voluntary GCM review) to be presented during the regional review, as appropriate.
- A roadmap for Member States to review the status of implementation of the GCM at the national level has been prepared and distributed by the Network in preparation for the IMRF (“IMRF Roadmap – Annex 2”, available at <https://migrationnetwork.un.org>).
- The Network will provide an online space on the GCM Knowledge Platform dedicated to written submissions provided as part of the regional review process.
- Calls for inputs should facilitate wide participation of all relevant stakeholders by giving sufficient advance notice, disseminating a public call and making information as widely accessible as possible.

Guidance provided by the Network

The Network plays a critical role in organizing regional reviews and has developed various guidance documents to this end, including:

- › An indicative outline for regional processes, platforms, organizations and stakeholders
- › An indicative outline for Member States
- › A suggested checklist for preparing and organizing regional reviews
- › A document on how to ensure meaningful engagement of civil society and relevant stakeholders for regional reviews

These guidance materials are available on the Network's website, <https://migrationnetwork.un.org/regional-reviews>, which will contain updated information as it is available.

GCM REGIONAL REVIEW REPORTS

Regional reviews could result in comprehensive reports that synthesize all inputs received, highlight issues and priorities of regional importance and propose roadmaps for regional action to advance GCM implementation. These reports could then serve as inputs to the IMRF.

Suggested structure for GCM regional review reports

- Introduction
(regional overview and background)
- Executive Summary
- Key Findings
- Good Practices and Lessons Learned
(selected from within the region)
- Conclusions and Recommendations
(for implementation and future regional review)
- Annex
(include organization of work and list of participants)

STEP 6 - REPORTING

- ✓ Take stock of the existing mechanisms, tracking progress on other international agreements (for example, VNRs, UPR and treaty body reporting) into which GCM-related reporting processes can feed.
- ✓ Identify opportunities to leverage synergies across the various reporting mechanisms.
- ✓ Consult the Network's suggested guidance on the regional reviews. Draft inputs based on national capacity, including potentially a report.
- ✓ Collaborate, engage and partner with the Network, Regional Economic Commissions and all other relevant stakeholders to co-create, facilitate and participate in regional reviews.
- ✓ Chart out a clear path for your country's contribution to and participation in the International Migration Review Forum (IMRF), building on lessons learned and experience in developing inputs for the regional reviews.
